DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 2 line 2, "the solder materials" lacks antecedent basis.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites "a plurality of standoffs above the solder material and respectively under the overflow holes". However, it appears that the overflow holes are formed on the standoffs.

Claims 4 and 5 recite "through holes being correspondingly formed above each to the soldering parts". However, it appears that the holes are formed on the soldering parts.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yeh (US 2003/0216067).

Yeh discloses an electrical connector comprising an insulator (10) having a plurality of terminals (3) and a solder material (¶0023, line 7), the electrical connector being characterized by the insulator being provided with a plurality of overflow holes (17) in a direction along which the insulator and terminals apply pressure to the solder material.

Regarding claim 2, Yeh discloses the overflow holes are located above the solder material (see Fig.2).

Regarding claim 3, Yeh discloses the insulator is further provided with a plurality of standoffs (16) above the solder material and the overflow holes formed on the standoffs.

Regarding claims 4 and 5, Yeh discloses the terminals being bent horizontally as soldering parts (32), and through holes (321) being correspondingly formed on each of the soldering parts to respectively communicates with the overflow holes.
